AUSTRIA'S WOMEN PRISONERS

Even the Worst Criminals Are Treated Kindly.

In Austria a woman, no matter what she may do, is never regarded or treated quite as a criminal, says the Chicago Record. She may rob, burn, kill—set every law at defiance, in fact, and break all the commandments in turn—without a fear of ever being called upon to face a gallows. She is not even sent to any ordinary prison to do penance for her sins; the hardest fate that can befall her, indeed, is to be compelled to take up her abode for a time in a convent. There the treatment metal out to the process of the streatment metal out to the price's Pleasant Pellets.

Billiousness and constitution to get a hold on them and make life wretched. Those three complaints usually come to gether. Constipation affects the stomach and liver. That brings on billious attacks and liver. Wour nerves are unstruing, your system is sluggish. You loose ambition. The fact is your whole constitution is being slowly undermined. What you need is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They care the process are constitution to get the constitution to get burn, kill-set every law at defiance,

There any woman who is convicted of either crime or misdemeanor is at once transported. The judge before whom she is tried decides, of course, how long she shall remain. He may, too, if he deems it right, give orders that while there she shall pass a day in solitary confinement from time to time, and on these occasions be less plentifully supplied with food than usual. In the great majority of cases, however, no instructions of this kind are given; the women are simply handed over to the keeping of the superior of the convent to be dealt with as she thinks best. She houses them, feeds them, clothes them, and provides them with instruction and occupation; and the government gives her for what she does 35 kreuzers a day (about seven pence) for each prisoner under her

An Incident of the Cuban War.

Frederick W. Lawrence, a Cuban correspondent, sends to the New York Journal the following story of a woman's bravery. It happened in a battle a few days ago:

As the Spaniards were retreating one woman was killed while performing an act of courage that has been without parallel among the women of war, and three men lost their lives while trying to save her. She was Senora Paquta Alvarez, one of the female company that Senora Herandez organized.

Senora Alvarez's husband was in the battle, and during the retreat he, with two Cubans, saw a chance to capture Lieut. Col. Debos. The Spanard had moved a little too far from the right flank of his command, and Alvarez and his companions made a dash for him. Debos saw the movement, and run for the shelter of his The Cubans rashly pursued him too far, and in a moment

Senora Alvarez fell fast wearing out the corner of the on the Spaniards surrounding her husband with the ferocity of a tigress. He was fighting alone. The two other men who started to capture the Colonel with Alvarez were both dead. Quarters were two close to permit the use of rifles, so Senor and Senora Alvarez and the two Cubans who followed her were fighting with machetes. It was a battle against fearful odds.

Suddenly Alvarez thought he saw tween two rocks. There was the a chance of fight through the line to safety. He called to his wife to follow and started off toward the rebel column through a living wall, but Senora Alvarez, who was too weak to cope with so many soldiers and the two men who formed her volunteer escort were not equal to the task of overcoming the number who closed in ville convention. Thus is Bradley behind Alvarez.

Senora Alvarez and her escort were cut to pieces in sight of their friends. As they fell shouting "Viva Cuba Li-bre!" the 5,000 rebel soldiers answered the cry. Even the Spaniads crossed themselves in recognition of such fanatical courage.

Senor Alvarez did not know that his wife was not with him until he arrived inside the Cuban lines. When he learned what had happened he put in closing, "was the largest ever se- the muzzle of his pistol to his breast

Gov. Bradley has at last recognized his faithful band of Owensboro followers by appointing one of them to an office. Dr. Miller, however, be-comes first assistant physician at the Western Lunatic Asylum-a most responsible position-not because of the eminence he has attained in his profession, or of his peculiar skill in treating insanity, or because the medical fraternity endorsed him as a suitable man to fill this responsible trust, but because he has been Bradley's faithful henchman; has had the nerve in riotous party conventions to suppress unruly negroes, and more than all, probably, because he so boldly and vehemently denounced the treachery of Franks at the Madisonfilling the places of such scientific experts as Dr. Eager in the great eleemosynary institutions of this State.
